

Tallinn University of Technology project "Efficiency and equity in matching pre-schools and children: mechanism design approach" invites

Workshop "Family policies in (Eastern, Central and Northern) Europe with the emphasis on Child Day-Care"

22. May. 2014. 14.00 to 17.30

Akadeemia tee 3, room X-311.

Outline:

14.00-14.45. Kadri Simm "Theories of (Distributive) Justice – what, for whom and why?"

14.45-15.30. Triin Lauri "Working mothers and high fertility – what conditions affect the positive outcome of the contemporary family policy?"

15.30-16.15. Triin Roosalu & Karmo Kroos "Known and unknown aspects about the family policies in soviet and post-soviet Central and Eastern Europe"

16.15-17.00. Per Isaksen, Heidi Østland Vala & Ingunn Sælid Sell "Gender perspectives and the practical organisation of the day-care practices – Norwegian case"

17.00 – 17.30 Discussion "Gender perspectives and the practical organisation of the day-care practices, diffusion of the ideas – Estonian case"

Warm-up Helbe Põdder "Attitudes of work-life-balance and the context of family policy: Sweden, Finland, Estonia"

Everybody is welcome. Information and registration kaja.lutsoja@ttu.ee or tia.sarv@ttu.ee

<http://www.ttu.ee/EEMD>